

6TH MARCH 2019 FRANKSTON LIBRARY

ENVIRONMENTAL MONITORING

Identifying Environmental Needs

Did you know you can participate in monitoring the health of your environment? Join us for this free event presented by the Down's Estate Community Project, to learn about the flora and fauna within the Frankston Area and develop an understanding of why environmental monitoring is important. You will then have the opportunity to attend further sessions to learn the skills to assist you to complete your own Citizen Science Project or find a local project which you can take part in and become part of the solution to help restore our local flora and fauna.

The key presenter for the evening will be Malcolm Legg. Mal is a local ecologist, with extensive knowledge of the local flora and fauna and is an expert on environmental monitoring.
